

Sport of Kings Grand Champion Dedication

The Grand Championship is to encourage the concept of the Ideal Noble Warrior. The ideal includes a dedication to reproducing, perfecting and maintaining the arms and armor that are the tools of the trade. Just as in the middle-ages the warrior was not likely the armorer, it is not necessary that the warrior's kit be self-constructed for this competition.

Entrant Name:

Judges Name:

Armor period and region:

	0	1	2	3	4	5
Armor is culturally and temporally consistent?		Attempt made to be consistent.	Some consistent temporal and cultural elements.	Mostly consistent temporally and culturally.	Generally consistent temporally and culturally.	Completely consistent temporally and culturally.
Complete? Including weapons?		Attempt made to be consistent.	Weapons and other accoutrement are somewhat consistent.	Mostly consistent.	Generally consistent.	Weapons, shields and other accoutrement is entirely consistent with culture and time period.
Historic materials and details?		Attempt made to use historic materials.	Includes examples of period materials and construction.	Mostly consists of period materials and construction.	Broad use of period materials and construction.	Kit appears to be constructed from period materials, using period techniques.
Well maintained? Generally clean?		Attempt made to maintain kit and accoutrements.	Maintained, but shows signs of wear, rust or is dirty.	Clean and mostly maintained, few signs of rust or wear.	Clean, generally well maintained very little rust or wear.	Clean, very well maintained, no visible rust or wear.
Armor fits and the warrior is comfortable in their gear.		Attempt made to wear armor that fits.	Armor appears to fit generally.	Armor appears to fit, appears comfortable.	Armor fits, is comfortable and moves easily and well.	Armor is well fitted, clearly comfortable and does not appear to constrain movement.

Scoring: If an entrant exemplifies virtues of dedication, add points to their score, if they wrong these virtues, subtract points from their score. The final score should range from 0 to 25.

Final Score: _____